You are invited!

Technologies and building/facility operations are constantly evolving and challenging each other since the beginning of architecture. Nowadays with the advance of "smart" building technologies, multiple different functions and events can be supported in the same space in a previously impossible manner. This session looks at how technology has changed and is still changing the design and usage of facilities and 10 AV standards you should be using right now to improve quality and efficiency.

Date: 5 August 2020, Wednesday
Time: 15.00 hrs (Bangkok /Jakarta Time)
